

SNAP Resources

The Department of Health and Human Services (DHS) has stated that SNAP benefits will stop November 1st if the government shutdown does not end.

Key Points

What You Should Know

- October SNAP benefits were already issued and unaffected.
- No November SNAP benefits will be issued unless Congress and the Administration end the shutdown.
- DHS is open—customers can apply, recertify, or update cases now to ensure timely benefits when funding resumes.
- DHS will notify customers immediately if federal guidance changes.
